NEWS FROM HEARTLAND BALLROOM DANCERS, CHAPTER #2022 OF USA DANCE INC

From the Heart (President's & VP Message)

By Larry Gogel & Anna Kovalyova

Greetings from the new Board!

We are looking forward to working closely with our members. We are dedicated to organizing activities that would both benefit the Chapter's image and would further enhance the mission of the USA Dance.

The new Board would like to hear from our members on what we could do to make Heartland a better Chapter. Do you have an idea on how to improve our parties? Do you have a favorite song that you would like us to play at the next party? What do we need to change in order to attract more people to Heartland's parties and special events? What special programs would you like the Heartland to implement in the future? For example, would you be interested in participating in a dance program for home school kids if the Chapter were to set up such a program? Do you have a special talent that you would like to share with your fellow dancers? Do you volunteer at charity events or fundraisers that could benefit from Heartland's exhibitions? If so, please call us: 317-759-0171 or email us at lgogel@gmail.com, and let's us have fun together! Remember, we are here to serve you, but we also need your help!

January promises to be a busy month for us. January 17 is reserved for Heartland's annual ballroom workshop. This year's workshop as well as our January party will take place on the beautiful dance floor of Starlite Dance Studio. The workshop will be held from 2 to 6:30pm, followed by the evening dance from 7:30 to 11pm. The Chapter will provide snacks during both the workshop and the evening dance. There will be water available for purchase. Between 6:30 and 7:30, we will be going out to dinner. Since we only have 1 hour for dinner including driving time, we are proposing to go to the Chinese buffet on Georgetown Road, just a block away from Starlite. The dinner is on your own, but let us know if you are interested in dining with us as a group (lgogel@gmail.com), so we can make appropriate reservations. This is a great opportunity for socializing with your fellow dancers – something we should do more often ☺ weather, then it will be held the following Saturday, Jan 24. We will send an email blast if we need to move the workshop and the party due to the weather.

If we have to reschedule the workshop due to bad

Please note that our change of venue from Riolo to Starlite is for the month of January only. We will go back to Riolo for all the subsequent 2015 parties starting with February.

December Dance Report*by Larry & Anna*

We would like to thank everyone who attended the Heartland's annual Holiday party and helped us celebrate it in style. We had a great attendance, with several out-of-state guests. We had a wide variety of delicious pitch-in dishes, wonderful music and great exhibitions. The Chapter provided turkey and ham. We are very grateful to our door greeters and food organizers, and to our DJ. Thank you for ensuring that the party flowed smoothly.

Special thanks go to our performers: Chad Wright and Raquel Ward for sharing with us their amazing Showdance; to Marvin and Greta Bechtel for entertaining us with an enchanting Santa Mambo; to Dave Burkhart for the wonderfully sung songs; and to Larry Gogel for making us laugh at his rendition of "It Was The Night Before Xmas".

During the December raffle, we had a special prize – two free tickets to the Riverfront DanceSport Festival, generously donated by Gert Roslender, one of the Festival organizers. The Festival is held on January 10, 2015 at the Covington/Cincinnati Marriott at the Rivercenter, Amanda, OH. It is a one-day competition that is open to both pros and amateur dancers. The raffle tickets were won by Barb Cameron and Gordon Winter. Congratulations, to the winners!

The workshop is very affordable: Adult price is $15/lesson or $45 for 4 lessons. Pay for all 4 lessons & get free admission to the evening dance.

John Berry and Rauno Ilo will be our workshop instructors – scroll down for their bios and the workshop schedule. Both John and Rauno are internationally known instructors who have deep understanding of the art of dance. The workshop is designed to offer something for everyone, whether you are a social dancer or a competitor, a complete beginner or have years of dancing experience.

The workshop will cover the technique of several popular dances: Waltz, Foxtrot, Tango, Quick Step and Samba. Let's face it: learning proper dance technique often sounds boring, but without it, we can't quite execute those snappy turns and tricks that look so easy when we watch others dance them. Whatever your previous experience with learning dance technique was; whether you passionately hated learning the proper footwork, or you quietly tolerated your instructors droning on about the Rise and Fall, we promise you one thing:

After this workshop, you will get a totally different perspective on the importance of dance technique. If you ever told your dance partner that "this move does not feel right", the workshop would help you explain why something is not working. We'll even take it a step further and promise you that learning proper technique could be fun!

New this year, we are offering discounted tickets to full time students: $10/lesson or $30 for all 4 lessons.

You can purchase the workshop tickets in person through Anna K or Larry via cash or check only. Or make check payable to USA Dance, Inc. and mail to: Larry Gogel, P.O. Box 2085, Bloomington, IN 47402.

Our last year's workshop was sold out, and we have only a few spots left for this year's workshop, so if you are planning on going, let us know ASAP!

There will be NO dance lesson during our January party. We will go back to our regular pre-party lessons in February. We will have special prizes during the January raffle. We are looking forward to seeing all of you on January 17 at Starlite!

Solving the Rubik's Cube and Other Joys of Dancing...

By Lauren Shaffer

We're standing in the on-deck area milling about with five other couples. The on-deck captain begins to line us up. We've both done her job before. We don't envy her the hours she will spend "herding cats". Dancers have a mind of their own before they step on the competition floor. I see dancers pacing and bouncing on their toes. Another couple is doing deep squats to warm up their legs. One couple is having a costume emergency. Personally, I'm always in my head reviewing my "to do" list... posture, posture, posture, frame, relax shoulders, smile. I'm also wringing my hands trying to warm them up. Sure the ballroom is cold, but pre-competition jitters have made all the blood flow to support my vital organs, leaving my hands and feet to fend for themselves...maybe not the best physiological response for dancing. Suresh clasps my hands rubbing them to warm them up for me.

On the comp floor- Derby City

The music is ending. We're next. Suresh takes my hand and now we're striding across the floor and I'm pretty sure I'm holding my breath (note to self: add breathing to list). Suddenly there is music, then applause. Bow and repeat. I'm aware of judges as we fly past. I hope my smile hasn't faded to a nervous grimace. Bow and repeat. And then it's over. I feel exhilarated. We've just done something I wasn't sure I could do.... We've danced in front of a hundred people and half a dozen judges, who in mere seconds scored the months and years worth of work we've done to get to this point. Let's do it again!

This insanity started one Friday night in 2006 at a social dance party at Starlite Ballroom where Suresh and I met. I had been taking lessons with Scott Shook for a few months. When I asked a quiet guy sitting in a corner to dance, I thought I was doing a shy guy a favor. How was I to know he had already been dancing for 10 years? By that time Suresh had years worth of instruction from Kristiina Ilo, Rauno Ilo and Marie Roach. After that night, Suresh and I would run into each other every month at Sterrett Center during USA Dance parties. Over time, it became clear that we were both committed to International Standard and by early 2007, we began practicing together for competition and taking lessons from Kristiina Ilo. We competed together for the first time in May of 2007 in Chicago. From that point on, we were hooked on competing.

For us, competition is the goal that keeps us moving forward with our dancing. We are both introverted, science-nerds at heart. We really appreciate "technique" and the effort it takes to achieve it, but International Standard is not for everyone. It is challenging. Very challenging. Every time you step on the floor you are bound to another person through the five points of contact. The body mechanics are not unlike solving a Rubik's Cube and have to be considered as "his", "hers" and "ours". It's easy to get stuck squabbling at the "his" and "hers" stage of mechanics. But with perseverance, the Rubik's cube begins to solve itself and individual mechanics meld into the right couple mechanics. This is probably, the foremost reason we love International Standard. In the moment when it all is going right, we know we have created something greater through our connection than either of us could have achieved alone.

But dancing isn't only about technique and mechanics, it's also about relationships, which is why we enjoy social dancing and the opportunity to meet people. The relationships we've formed through dance have changed both our lives. Of course, we found each other through social dance! We were married in 2010. We've also made enduring friendships with our dance teachers and with dancers we've met through various dance organizations. We've had the opportunity to serve the Heartland Chapter of USA Dance on the Board and in various other capacities.

More recently, our "service" has been focused on performing at different venues, which we thoroughly enjoy. We enjoy the process of hunting for music and adding some show elements to our dance. Probably one of our favorite places to perform is The Indiana Roof Ballroom. The Roof is challenging because the space is large and circular – which takes mental exercise to keep track of your rectangular routine in a circular space – but the reward is enjoying the beautiful ballroom and the great audience.

The New Dance Year is already looking promising! We have been working with first-time dancer Cheryl Hardacre, Suresh's partner for Dancing Like the Stars, a fundraiser for the historic Paramount Theater in Anderson to be held on January 31st. We hope everyone will consider making a donation to the Paramount, which counts as votes for Cheryl and Suresh (<http://www.gofundme.com/DLTS2015>). We look forward to more opportunities for social dancing, competing, and instruction. We currently receive coaching from Rauno and Kristiina Ilo at Starlite Ballroom and plan to continue competing in the Open Standard Divisions at regional events. Hope to see everyone on the dance floor!
