David Hume Memorial Dance Scholarship Fund

David Hume had a passion for dance and his byline was "Life may not be the party we hoped for, but while we are here, we might as well dance". He served as president on four ballroom dance clubs, worked to encourage others to dance and to provide suitable opportunities for dancers to enjoy.

The David Hume Memorial Dance Scholarship Fund was established by family and friends following his death to honor his memory and promote love of dancing; with a long term goal to have an endowment adequate to produce income that would provide annual scholarships for dance education for youth and the young at heart. The most recent recipients were 18 homeschooled youth who all completed the 12 week program; several have continued with dance and are moving forward with competition ballroom dancing.
