

Looking for a gift that will WOW your favorite dancer? Need to give a HINT to someone? Or just want some new ideas for your shopping list? Here are six ideas...

1. Give the gift of dance! Buy dance lessons from your favorite instructor or dance studio. We list the studios and independent instructors that we know of on the Dance lessons page of our website: <http://usadancedenver.org/local-resources/dance-lessons/>
Buy a USA Dance membership and support our national programs that promote social and competition ballroom dancing, including significant help for Dancesport athletes representing the US in World Championship competitions. See a list of brand-new Member benefits: <http://usadance.org/extra/membership-value/>. Basic memberships are $35 for adult social dancers and $20 for youth Dancesport competitors. You can join our at our chapter events or go to <http://usadance.org/membership/> (please specify Rocky Mountain Chapter #5006 as your chapter choice).
2. Badda Bling! Add some glitter and glamour to your dance style and be the center of attention. Our local vendors <http://usadancedenver.org/local-resources/local-vendors/> have wonderful items available!
3. Take a trip down memory lane with a dance flick! Ideas that come to mind: Shall We Dance, Mad Hot Ballroom, Take the Lead, Strictly Ballroom, Dirty Dancing. How about Happy Feet (Footloose with penguins)? Do you have any other favorites?
4. If you cannot get enough of the foxtrot, salsa or tango, or maybe admire Derek Hough's dancing career, then here are a few ideas for books with dancing themes. Derek Hough has a tell-all biography "Taking the Lead" describing his journey from bullied young boy to ballroom star and filled with behind-the-scenes anecdotes. Fiction lovers might like "The Unexpected Waltz" by Kim Wright or "Dead on the Dance Floor" by Heather Graham. Other ideas: "Ballroom Dancing—The Romance, Rhythm and Style" by John Lawrence Reynolds or "Ballroom Culture and Costume in Competitive Dance" by Jonathan S. Marion. Any other recommendations from our book lovers?
5. You are invited to become a sponsor of our local chapter dancesport competitions and be recognized in our competition program. All donations to the Rocky Mountain Chapter are tax deductible at their fair market value under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue code. You can specify that your donation be used for scholarships or general to offset expenses. Email info@usadancedenver.org for information. Want to go bigger?
